Chewing tobacco sales last year were the highest in 80 years. Sales amounted to 92.5 million pounds, up 4.1 percent over 1977. Two-thirds of the sales consisted of loose leaf chewing tobacco - - the kind that comes in a pouch.

Snuff production last year climbed above 25 million pounds.

World cigarette consumption is increasing at about 3% per year. This means that, at this rate, world demand for tobacco could almost double by the year 2000.

Cyanoacrylate type glues are very fast drying. If skin becomes glued to skin, do not pull apart. First, soak the glueded area in warm, soapy water. Then, pull the skin apart or pry the surfaces apart with a spoon handle.

Beginning July 1, all soil test results will be processed by computer. There will be new forms and more detailed information required. Details will be forthcoming.

The Best Management Practices Manuals have arrived. They may be reviewed at this office, SCS or ASCS Offices - all have copies.

We urge that you become familiar with the proposal. It can and will have a significant impact on the way you have been doing business.

Dandelions can be controlled in lawns with 2,4-D at the rate of 2 tablespoons per 1000 square feet. The amount of water used is insignificant since it is only a carrier.

Now is the time to prevent crabgrass and goosegrass in lawns. There are several recommended materials - Balan, Betasan and Daethal. Do not use these materials on lawns seeded this spring.

If there is a need to control crabgrass, barnyard grass or foxtails in newly seeded lawn, use siduron. This chemical will not injur bluegrass, Ky 31 or perennial rye grass.

Looks like a good crop of tent caterpillars are building up. There are numerous small tents developing in the crotches of trees. Spray while the caterpillars are small. Use seven, methoxychlor, diazinon or Bacillus Thuringiensis.

Don't neglect putting an implant in steer calves. Be careful with heifers - - you can run into problems. See article elsewhere in this issue about implanting cattle.

The value of the hide and offal from an average 1000 pound steer is now quoted at around $100 per head, well above procurement and slaughtering costs per head.

Did you ever wonder which pasture to graze first. Since fescue greens up first, it works well to graze it first. After bluegrass, clover, or orchardgrass - clover pastures are well started, turn on them and let the fescue not needed for spring pasture go for hay. Fescue seed production and its subsequent spreading to other parts of the farm can be essentially eliminated in this way. If fescue is to be used for summer grazing, it is eaten much better if it goes into the summer short and vegetative.

VINES CAN MAKE A FENCE FRIENDLIER by softening its harsh straight lines. They can make a lamp post, stump or utility pole a thing of beauty, screen areas for privacy, act as exotic ground covers or climb trees to add flower color in unexpected places.

Perhaps the least troublesome and most spectacular vine of all is the clematis. Often called the "Queen of Flowering Vines," the clematis has a few special care requirements that, when satisfied, will give you grand displays of huge blooms in the large flowering varieties or masses of exotic blooms in the prolific small flowering types.

In its native habit, the clematis twines its way up a shrub to spread across the crown in the sunlight and produce its brilliant flower display... Because of this habit, it needs direct sunlight on the top of the plant while its roots need cool shade.

If you don't wish to grow clematis with another plant, you can use it on trellises, deck railings, poles, fences and other areas. To keep the roots cool, plant it on the north side of low decks, behind annual flowers in a sunny border or mulch the roots with a few large, flat rocks over the root zone.

When you purchase a clematis either by mail-order or from a local nursery, you may be surprised at the size of the plant. Your young clematis will normally be a thin twig with a small root ball in a plastic bag when you receive it. This is still a quality plant. Remember that the name clematis means "thin vine."

The clematis stem is quite fragile. If your plant has a small stake attached when you purchase it, leave this in place for a few years. After planting, place a protective collar around the plant to prevent any damage to the young stem.

Loosen the soil where you are planting your clematis to a depth and width of two feet. Mix in peat moss and sand with your soil to improve drainage and add a handful of lime to this mix.

Set the plant in the hole so that the crown is at soil level. Stake the plant on three sides, particularly in areas where there is high traffic from children and pets. Tie a string to the stem that leads up to the vine's permanent supports to help guide the vine.

Water freely and often the first year and soak well, once a week, during dry weather in subsequent years. Feed twice a season with a good garden fertilizer such as 5-10-10 and lime.

Prune the plants the first spring after planting to just 6 to 12 inches from the ground. The tips of growing shoots can be pinched during late spring and early summer to produce extra branching. The more you prune the first year, the better your plant will appear in following years.

Late flowering varieties, those that bloom in late summer and fall, should be pruned back hard each year as these plants bloom on new growth each year. Early blooming varieties should not be pruned except to remove dead stems. Mulch the plant in late fall with peat moss or leaves to prevent damage from frost heave caused by winter freezing and thawing.

Appomattox 8 Nelson Co. 2

The Raiderettes scored three runs in the first inning, added two more in the third, two in the fifth and one in the seventh to out duel Nelson County 8 to 2 in, Seminole District softball last week.

Coach Johnson's triple plated two runs in the first which gave Appomattox a lead they never lost. The Raiderettes played errorless ball behind the four hit pitching of Johnna Belter.

The Raiderettes ran their season record to 6 wins and 0 losses with a 15 to 1 drubbing of Jefferson Forest in Seminole District softball action last week.

The Appomattox girls batted around in the first scoring five runs on five hits and after being held scoreless in the second they continued to pound Forest pitching for ten runs on fourteen base hits from the third through the sixth innings.

Johnna Belter (5-0) gave up only four hits in going the distance for Appomatox.

Big hits for the Raiderettes included Karen Johnson's home run, Vanessa Smith's triple and Sherri Repass' double. Repass also had two singles and Susan Godsey went four for four.

Dark-Fired Tobacco Growers Concerned About Low Grade Tobacco

The Virginia Dark-Fired Tobacco Growers Marketing Association is very concerned about the accumulation of low grade tobacco in government loan stocks and the possible effects it may have.

We feel the following will help you to understand the situation.

Dark Fired Board Meets

The Virginia Dark-Fired Tobacco Growers Marketing Association Board of Directors held its spring meeting at the New Randolph Warehouse, Farmville on Tuesday, March 27, 1979. The meeting was held for the purpose of reviewing the past marketing season and to try and assess the present situation of dark fired growers.

Pool Take Heavy

It was pointed out by President J. A. Hazelgrove that demand for low quality tobacco had fallen off sharply and that pool receipts had been heavy this past season. He stated that pool stocks now totaled about 2½ million pounds from the 1977 and 1978 crops. After the re-drying and packing is completed 2156 hogsheads will be on hand, a good majority of which is in the low lug grades and non descript. In the opinion of some, much of this tobacco would not be disposed of at an early date.

Some Tobacco Received No Grade

Tom Hall, Association Manager, told the group that the last two years there had been an undetermined amount of tobacco offered by the growers which received no grade and no bid from the buyers. Some of this tobacco was carried away by the growers but by the end of the season quite a bit had accumulated at the warehouse. This tobacco had to be disposed of by giving it to someone to throw on their land and then ASCS employees inspected the warehouses to see that they were free of tobacco.

Other Growing Areas Accumulating Loan Stock

It was brought to the attention of the Directors that growers of Type 22 and 23 Dark-Fired Types in Kentucky and Tennessee were experiencing lower prices and growing loan stocks of similar tobacco. This could mean less demand for low grade tobacco for the future. The percentage of low grade tobacco marketed must be decreased. Growers can do this by either priming their tobacco before topping or by leaving the lower stalk leaves in the field at harvest, or by leaving them at home when they get ready to market their tobacco.

Still Demand For Most Tobacco

Buying interest who have been consulted point out usuage of Type 21 tobacco and demand is still steady. Because of poor growing seasons and some growers emphasis on pounds instead of quality, many orders have gone unfilled in recent years. If growers would put increased emphasis on growing quality, then averages and yields per acre would most certainly go up.

Extension Agents and specialists from the Southern Piedmont Research Centers at Blackstone, Virginia have pledged help in an education program that hopefully would result in better quality tobacco.

Men's & Women's Softball Tournaments Planned

Men's softball tournament and women's softball tournament will be held at the new Brookneal Ballpark on May 4, 5, and 6.

For additional information contact Peggy Mason, P.O. Box 6, Rustburg, Va. 24588.

Lung Assoc. Youth Hold Cleaner Air Week Kickoff

The annual meeting of the Virginia Lung Association's Youth Board of Directors on Saturday, April 21, will serve as a reminder that Cleaner Air Week in Virginia will be held from April 30 through May 6. Fifty-five high school students and regional sponsors will attend the session at lung association headquarters, 311 South Boulevard in Richmond at 10:30 a.m.

Now in its eleventh year, the Youth Board will honor past VLA advisors Rothwell G. Sketchley, Lawrence E. Crumbliss, and Richard L. Summers. Mr. Summers is now executive director of the Richmond Chapter of the Virginia Affiliate of the American Heart Association.

Major Lewis of Cumberland, president of the state youth board, called attention to the fact that accomplishments of regional youth boards will be featured at the session. "And after lunch," he said, "we will head for Byrd Park, across the street, and release 500 balloons for clean air. We hope to remind Virginia residents to observe Cleaner Air Week by conserving energy, driving to activities in a carpool, and checking their auto emissions control device for efficiency."

After sending off balloons, the youth board will return to the VLA parking lot where William Henderson, of Sun Electric Company, will conduct auto emissions testing of members' automobiles. The public is invited to witness the testing, but because of limited space, only youth board members' cars will be tested.

A general testing of emissions devices for personal autos is planned by the lung association and the State Air Pollution Control Board for the summer of 1979. The date will be announced later.

Troop 546 To Inaugurate Camping Area This Saturday

Troop 546, Boy Scouts of America, will dedicate the Sweeney Prizery Primitive Camping Area at 11 a.m. this Saturday, April 21, 1979. The ceremonies will be open to the public. All boys, 11 to 18 years of age, are encouraged to attend with their parents to see Scouting in Action. Scouts from Troop 546 will be engaged in demonstrations of Scouting Skills throughout the afternoon. Lunch will be available.

The Sweeney Prizery Primitive Camping Area is located near Lee's Headquarters at the Appomattox Court House Historical Park. Parking will be available at Lee's Headquarters.

In Memoriam

In sad but loving memory of my wife and our mother, Mrs. Nannie P. Jennings who left us on April 25, 1975.

Your smiling face, your pleasant ways,
The kindness in your heart.
These things we still remember,
Though we are now apart.
We miss you more each passing day.
Our grief is hard to bare,
But we know that God is with you,
And you are in His care.

Before your agent shows you another house, show him this ad.

American Federal Introduces Another First: The Fantastic F.L.I.P.® Mortgage.

If your real estate agent doesn't know about American Federal's new Flip,® mortgage, he may be showing you the wrong house.

That's why we're asking you to show him this ad. Because, if you qualify for Flip, you just might be able to buy the house you want now—instead of years from now.

FLIP® FOR YOUR DREAM HOUSE.

Flip is short for the Flexible Loan Insurance Program. And it's based on what is called a graduated payment mortgage.

For the first 5 years, Flip cuts your monthly principal and interest payments, so you can buy a better house.

Let's say you're trying to buy a $45,000 house, with a 10% downpayment, and a 30-year mortgage. Normally, to do this, you'd have to make $201.200.

Thanks to Flip, the early year payments would be reduced. This means you could qualify for the same house and make $171.675 a year.

THE FLIP® CHART

Year	Traditional Loan	Flip® Loan
1	$378.01	$306.94
2	378.01	325.74
3	378.01	345.47
4	378.01	366.17
5	378.01	387.92
6-30	378.01	410.73

Payments based on a 90% loan on a $45,000 house.
Assuming typical taxes, insurance, other new housing expenses and a five-year supplementary period. Interest figured at 10¾% with 11.31% APR.

With a traditional 90% loan, the mortgage would be $378.01. With the Flip loan, the monthly payment would be $306.94.

Needless to say, that's a big difference. A difference you can live with.

THE KEY TO FLIP.®

The key that makes Flip work is a savings account. With Flip, you take the money you'd normally use for a downpayment and put it in a savings account at American Federal.

Every month for 5 years, we withdraw some of this money to supplement your monthly payment. For instance, on a $45,000 house, the full mortgage payment would be $410.73. You'd pay $306.94. And we'd make up the difference from your savings.

Then, after 5 years when your downpayment money is used up, your monthly payments, which have gradually increased, would remain at $410.73 for the rest of the mortgage.

During these 5 years, your income will have grown, you'll be able to afford the payments, and you'll be in the house you've wanted all along.

BE THE FIRST TO FLIP® AT AMERICAN FEDERAL.

We've told you the basics about Flip. But we know you're bound to have lots of other questions.

If you'd like, give us a call and we'll be happy to answer your questions. Or talk to your agent and ask him for our free Flip brochure.

After all, why wait for the house of your dreams, when you may be able to get it now?

Flip. Another good idea from American Federal.

For all the good times to come.
